Archival History: Mailed to the Castle Rock Library in 1992.

These visual materials were created as a result of the relationship between the Colorado Western Development Company and A. L. Schafer. Mr. Schafer was a professional photographer who was instrumental in the production of the Perry Park Panorama between 1968 and 1976. The records were donated to the Douglas County History Research Center-Douglas County Libraries in 1992.

Scope and Content / Abstract:

These visual materials were created and duplicated by A. L. Schafer as the result of his relationship with the Colorado Western Development Company in the late 1960's and early 1970's. Most of the materials relate to the development of the Perry Park subdivision located west of Larkspur, Douglas County, CO. The materials include photographic prints, negatives, slides, transparencies and half tone prints and negatives.

These are the visual materials created by A. L. Schafer during his dealings with Colorado Western Development Company's Perry Park Subdivision between 1968 through 1976. The majority of the materials pertain to the development of various aspects of Perry Park near Larkspur, Colorado including road construction, housing construction, water and sanitation installation, construction of the Echo Hills Club, and parties and gatherings of Perry Park residents. The materials in the collection were used in the production of the Panorama newsletter. A. L. Schafer, the donor of the collection, was a freelance photographer hired by the Colorado Western Development Company during Lee Stubblefield's tenure. Many of the photos are of early Perry Park residents, staff and other people associated with the area in the late 1960's and early 1970's. Many of the houses are identified by their original owner's names.

Structure:

System of Arrangement: Because original order was not a consideration, the photographic and half tone prints in the collection are organized by subject, the negatives, color slides and other transparencies are separated by media and numbered so that they are arranged chronologically by accession number. Prints are stored in 4 plastic binder boxes, black and white negatives, color slides and transparencies are stored in another, while black and white halftone prints are in another binder box arranged by accession number. There is also a folder containing 4 oversized negatives and one print.

If the grass, which was well established last fall, thickens even more and remains healthy, eleven holes will be opened for play this summer. However, because opening the course for play too soon might ruin it for years, the opening will be postponed until the course is completely ready in all aspects."
06	Color Slides	A. L. Schafer	1970	Narrachant Ridge and Red Rock Drive, Perry Park, Douglas County, Colorado.
Description Panorama Vol 3:2, Winter 1970-1971. "Along Red Rock Drive, below spectacular Narrichant Ridge, the Colorado Western Development Company will build three homes which will be "show homes" and offered for sale to the public. The homes, to be started soon, will have a view including Chief Saguache's stone face, the ranch complex, and Bear Creek, and be near the center of Perry Park activity."
06	Color Slides	A. L. Schafer	1970	Deer on golf course, Perry Park, Douglas County, Colorado.
Description Panorama Vol 3:2, Winter 1970-1971. "Hardly noticed, this huge five-point buck mule deer crossed Bear Creek and proceeds along the fairway of number nine hole on the Perry Park golf course. Despite increased activity, deer have remained and grown tame. Hunting in Perry Park, now a zoned residential area, is prohibited, of course. Soon, golfers will hit from this spot, as soon as it is determined the grass is well-enough established."
